Notes:-

In a multi definitions - one above is appropriate in the context the definition is used.

CONCLUSION

Nursing is too broad & dynamic a concept to be defined effectively

Nursing is both an art, and science & technology.

multifactorial: physical, psychological, social.

Smoked, canned, browned, spiced.

A definition of nursing would be to instructive to the whole profession and the whole.

In practice such specifications are necessary for purposes of more fully formulating objectives, saving education and research -
